

THE GREAT

INTERNET PARANOIA SWINDLE

Why the internet is the new punk rock, how it can empower your kids and give them a voice, and what you should and shouldn't be doing about it.

MONDAY 2ND JUNE 2014 19:30

SECKFORD THEATRE, WOODBRIDGE

book tickets online at www.netparanoia.com

Join us on Monday 2nd June at 7:30pm at Seckford Theatre in Woodbridge for an in-depth talk on why you should pay attention to what's really happening online, how an open internet can benefit your family and why we shouldn't leave our internet safety up to governments.

Tickets: £12 each. Available at www.netparanoia.com

SPEAKER

Euan Semple

“He was absolutely wonderful – spikey, full of knowledge, inspirational, opinionated, witty. I think everyone left the room determined to go back and review their online activity, motivated to go try something different. Oh yes, and we laughed a lot too!”
